Over the years I have held a number of positions in a natural progression to my current position as Chief Financial Officer, Corporate Secretary & Treasurer. Starting out as a Project Engineer\Estimator for a few years I then moved into the role of Project Manager before becoming the Chief Engineer & Director of Purchasing. With each new position came increased responsibilities and I now work side-by-side with the principals of our company.

Over the years I have conducted contract and change order negotiations with federal agencies, state agencies and local government offices as well as private subcontractors and suppliers. All human resources, ranging from legal matters, corporate health and general liability insurance and the corporate employee handbook, are the responsibility of my office. Of course, as CFO, I'm directly responsible for all financial activities of our company including but not limited to: payroll, payables, receivables, forecasting, investments, financial statements, audits and information technology.

I also serve as our corporate EEO officer & ESBE\DBE Liaison and have participated in roundtable discussion groups for NJDOT Division of Civil Rights.
